

Seasonal peaks. Special projects. Rush orders. Tight deadlines. They can push your staff and capabilities to the limit. When that happens, call Lofton Staffing Services. At Lofton, we are experts at managing a flexible work force. Using supplemental staffing will allow you to operate at peak efficiency while meeting deadlines and maintaining quality standards. You will also save time and money, because you only pay for the days our assignment employees work - never for unproductive time. Once the demand subsides, you adjust your flexible work force, not your permanent staff.
